A Message From The Tournament Chairman

The Los Angeles Basin Section of the Society of Petroleum Engineer's (LA SPE) major priority is the development of engineering and science skills in today's youth and it's members. The Annual Golf Tournament is the Society's major funding vehicle for programs that support this priority.

A major part of these programs is community service and outreach to enhance the image of our industry and the encouragement of the engineering and science professions. Each year LA SPE provides scholarships to High School and University students pursuing an engineering or science curriculum. Besides direct funding of students, our members visit schools to tell the story of oil & its importance in our lives. We also support annual High School Science Fairs and fund programs introducing high school teaching community to our industry. These very popular programs successfully highlight the importance of the petroleum industry in daily life and our efforts to provide energy in a safe and environmentally responsible way.

Please join us this year in our continued efforts to support these programs and our industry. Golfers and non-golfers alike enjoy the day and provide support for the year.

Best Regards,
Mark Shemaria,
2010 Tournament Chairman
